Insurance Salvage Corps.

Editors Dispatch: There was some talk few months ago of establishing an insurance patrol to cooperate with our Fire Department for the purpose of saving mer-chandise and personal property from destruction by water. We hope the subject s not dead. In other cities they are found to be invaluable, as it is well known that at many fires, under the very best management, the loss by water is necessarily much greater than that by fire. The object of the organization is to prevent or lessen this loss by their special effort in that direction.
